

Mokena Homecoming Queen Contest Opens, Announce Two Parades, Baton Twirlers*Ask Support For Queen Candidate

If the residents of Mokena sensed an air of excitement in their little town this past week, they may be sure it was only caused by a very busy group of girls from 10 to 16 years of age who were out soliciting votes for our 4-H club leader, Mary Ann Rinke. Because we 23 young ladies have been enthusiastically learning to sew and cook under our leader's guidance and are appreciative of the many hours she has been helping us, we have persuaded her to become a candidate for Mokena's Homecoming queen.

Even tho the other four candidates are each being sponsored by organizations composed of adults we are proud to be recognized as a sponsoring organization and are confident of seeing our leader named queen at the Mokena Homecoming which will be held August 1 thru 15th.

Many of us are this week putting the final stitches into the garments which will be judged today and modeled Saturday at the Pageant of Progress in Joliet. The style show will be open to the public free of charge.

Mokena's 4-H club has done well for itself in the past years and again hopes to capture many blue ribbons as well as a few Will county outstanding awards.

Because we are all young girls who cannot drive a car and are very busy finishing our 4-H projects, we are not able to call personally on those outside of Mokena, so we are asking you to save your votes for our 4-H leader, Mary Ann Rinke for Mokena's Homecoming queen. She has helped us unselfishly to learn cooking and sewing and now we would like to help her. We are asking you to please help elect her Mokena's Homecoming queen by being sure to visit the registration booth where you can register for the hourly attendance prizes given by the Mokena's Businessmen Assn., as well as vote for our 4-H leader.

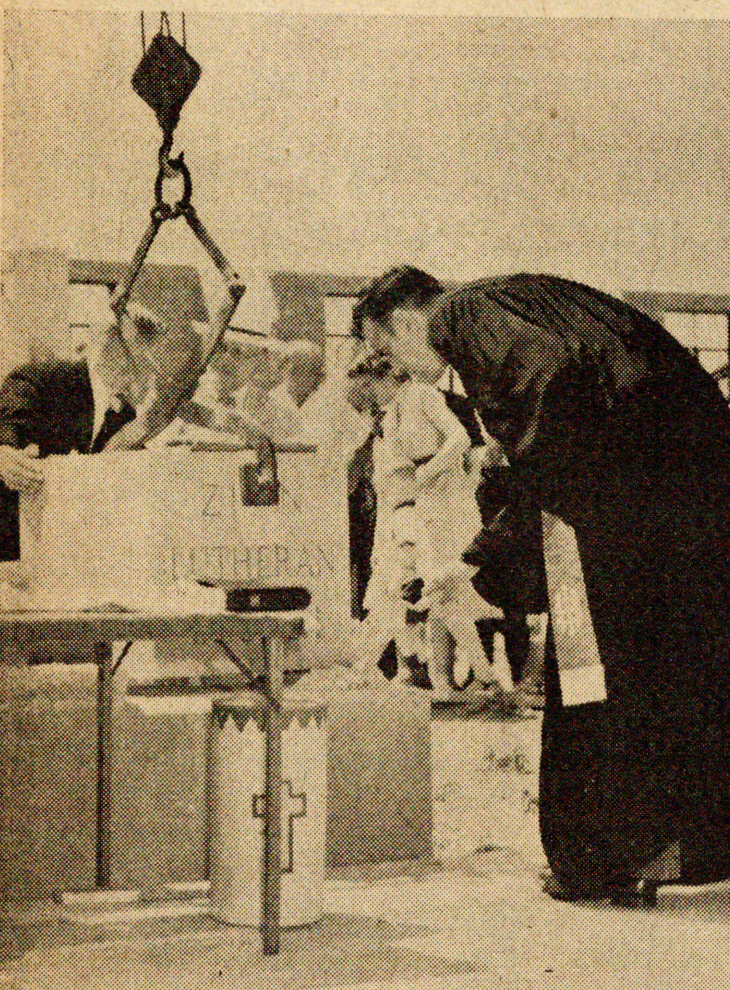

We will sincerely appreciate your support.

Joanne Hecht
4-H Queen chairman

The activity that always precedes Mokena's annual Homecoming continued this week as the Homecoming committee signalled the start of the queen contest. A record number of entries have been received this year and a closer contest than usual is predicted.

Mary Ann Rinke has been sponsored by the 4H Jolly Troop and the other organizations chose their candidates by lot. Following are the candidates and their sponsors:

One of the main highlights of this year's Homecoming, August 13, 14, 15, Mokena's 15th annual, will again be the two parades to be held Sunday August 15. Ed Carroll and Dick Friant are the big parade chairmen, while Eileen Hoolehan is handling preparations for the kiddie parade which has proved so popular in the past. An added feature of this year's parade will be baton twirling by New Lenox girls. Local business people are urged to contact the parade chairmen if they wish to enter a float in the parade.

The free variety show to be held nightly during the celebration promises to be well worth coming miles to see. Nor Robinson is in charge of living up the talent and George Krueger and Lew Loebe of New Lenox will act as MC's.

Spots that promise to be attractions on the midway again this year are the usual games directed by Bill Blaha and Walter Spiewak, the parrakeet booth under guidance of Tom Everhart, the ball game run by Walter Hentsch, and Jack Nordsell's lamp booth.

Refreshments are all important and this need will be handled by Roy Richardson and Henry Shevlin. Those people with a yen for delicious popcorn will be happy to learn that Harley Mann will personally operate that machine.

In addition to the many games and rides available to young and old alike, Gerrit and Harriet Swart are hard at work on special entertainment for the Teenage group.

The park exhibit under the direction of Dean Rueckert, and the exhibition booth directed by Hilda Geuther, both are places of interest that are sure to draw the crowd's attention.

The chairman of Mokena's biggest event of the year is Ray Hoolehan, while Jane Bills and Charles Swanberg are in charge of personnel. Stan Williams has charge of the grounds, and Jim Wrath is finance chairman and is handling the publicity.

SUNDAY AUG. 1

Legionnaires from this region are looking toward Orland Park these days and waiting for Sunday, August 1. The occasion is the big picnic being given by Orland Park post 526, American Legion.

There will be plenty of free parking space. Everybody is invited to come and bring the children. Not a dull moment at any time.

Sunday School Says
Farewell to Supt.
Adeline Semmler

The spacious lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Neithammer was the scene of a lovely lawn party Monday evening, July 26.

It was in the nature of a farewell party and shower for Miss Adeline Semmler, who will make her home in Morton following her marriage July 31 to Marvin Smith. The party was given by the Sunday school and choir of the Mokena Methodist church. Miss Semmler has been the Sunday school superintendent and teacher for many years.

The lawn was prettily decorated with electrically lighted Chinese lanterns and flood lights. Lawn chairs and tables added to the comfort and enjoyment of the guests.

More than 50 were in attendance to wish the prospective bride the best of fortune in her new home.

The entire group gave Miss Semmler a beautiful blanket and an electric toaster. In addition each of the classes, and the choir, made a unique presentation of their own gifts. A long clothes line was provided and the bride and groom-elect were required to follow its course. At intervals the clothes line led into the shrubbery where a gift was found tied to the line. They were required to bring this back and open it in the presence of the laughing guests, then continue following the line to the next class gift in a container.

Colored slide pictures were taken. Refreshments consisting of fruit punch, petit-fours, open faced sandwiches, candy and salted nuts were served. It was a delightful balmy summer evening and everyone enjoyed the occasion.

L-W Hi School
Almost Ready To Be Opened

Within 15 months after the first ground was broken the new Lincoln-Way high school is rapidly nearing completion. Except for a few minor items all the contractors have completed their assignments.

Coordination among subcontractors has been most gratifying and has contributed greatly to the rapidity of construction.

Charles Morrow, the construction superintendent representing the architects and the board of education, has been on the job since the beginning and has been highly efficient.

Two sub-contractors are now completing the spacious gymnasium. The 114 ft by 11 ft floor is now being completed and bleachers and a large dividing door are being installed. This door is being installed by The Wayne Co. of Philadelphia and is the only door of its kind in the middle west.

Brown & Lambrecht are completing the site grading and the construction of the gravel driveways. Over 50,000 yards of dirt have been removed and about 5,000 yards of topsoil have been replaced over the ground to provide a seedbed.

Concrete sidewalks in front of the building have been poured and are ready for use. The main gravel parking lot will be located directly west of the gymnasium.

Need Teacher Housing

While most of the Lincoln-Way teachers have found suitable living accommodations, there is still need for several partially furnished small apartments. This problem is made difficult by the fact that several new families are moving into the community at the same time. The board of education wishes its teachers to be suitably housed and will appreciate receiving any information as to available places. Several of the unmarried women teachers are looking for places with cooking privileges.

Two More Teachers

Glenn Young of Joliet and Albert J. Buckowich of Aurora have been added to the teaching staff.

Mr. Young will teach some of the freshman general science classes and also help with the classes in auto driving. He is a graduate of Joliet township high school and junior college, received his B.S. degree from Illinois Normal university and his M.S. degree from Oklahoma A&M university. While attending school he was an outstanding member of the various instrumental musical organizations and for several years has been a member of the Joliet Legion band.

Mr. Buckowich replaces Dean Riley, who had resigned as coach for the freshman - sophomore teams and instructor in mathematics. He is now serving in the army in Augusta, Ga., but will be released in time to assume his duties at the opening of school. He graduated from East Aurora high school and received his degree from Illinois Normal university. At the university Mr. Buckowich was active in the University club, Gamma Phi, Letterman's club and Intramurals. He won his football varsity letter for three years and in his senior year was co-captain of the team.

He was in the same class and on the same football team as Jonas Lashmet, the Lincoln-Way football coach.

World Council of Church Meets at Evanston Aug. 15-31

"By the Waters of Babylon" a dramatic production portraying intense human need in key areas of the world, is now being rehearsed in Evanston for final staging at 8 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 22, as a special feature of the forthcoming second assembly of the World Council of Churches convening at Evanston Aug. 15-31.

The "dramatic documentary" after Psalm 137 will tell not only of suffering and misery, but what Christians over the world are doing about it—through the combined work of the 161 member churches in 48 lands which make up the World Council of Churches.

Today, the suffering of ordinary people living in fear of the atom bomb; dying of tuberculosis at the rate of 5,000,000 a year, and living as refugees at a total of 40,000,000, gives similar cause for weeping in a new Babylon.

The drama will be presented in McGraw Memorial hall, Evanston, at the regular plenary session of the World Council assigned to its Department of Interchurch Aid and Service to Refugees. Tickets at $1.00 each may be obtained by sending the money and addresses to World Council Tickets, 1800 Sheridan Rd., Evanston, with a notation they are to be for Aug. 22.

Miss Janet Lacey, author, producer and director of the drama, has arrived from London to audition and organize a cast of Evanston, North Shore, and Chicago church people for speech choirs and background parts.

Everett Mitchell, director of agriculture, NBC, and Ken Nor-dine, well known on radio and TV, will be narrators.

The central church figures in the production will be Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin; Dr. Edgar H. Chandler, Geneva, associate director of the World Council's Department of Interchurch Aid and Service to Refugees; the Rev. Kyung Ghik Han, a leader in Korean church relief, and Dr. Marc Boegner, France, one of the six World Council of Churches presidents.

Miss Lacey is executive secretary of the Department of Interchurch Aid and Service to Refugees of the British Council of Churches, London.

Although McGraw hall on the Northwestern University campus will also be the scene of all the great plenary sessions of the World Council, a crew of Evanston and North Shore boys will transform it from a conference room to a theatre for this one night. The boys will move out all the tables assigned to official World Council assembly delegates and consultants and substitute 2500 folding chairs, thus allowing 2500 more tickets to be sold to the public.

Evanston women, particularly those of the First Congregational Church, are busy making costumes in Central European and Middle Eastern style from cloth donated by the Celenese company. Mrs. Charles Calkins, secretary of the Evanston Council of Churches, has been the coordinator between Miss Lacey and the whole cooperative Evanston-North Shore community.

Herbert Gehagan, of Broadway, will be here as lighting and technical director.

Alex Flett and Jim Bourgeois, of the Northwestern School of Speech faculty, will handle stage and sound effects respectively.

The Conservation Department's magazine, "Outdoors in Illinois," has just come off the press in its new format and is ready for distribution free on request. Those wishing to be placed on the mailing list may write the Department of Conservation, 303 East Monroe, Springfield.

Bids totaling more than $9,000,000 have been opened by the state Division of Highways in the seventh road letting on Governor William G. Stratton's highway and bridge construction program for 1954. Top Dress Alfalfa Meadows To Get More Hay, Bigger Profits

Thick legume stands can be maintained year after year when they are regularly fertilized.

LEGUME-GRASS meadows will make a quicker comeback this summer if you top dress them after the first cutting. The Middle West Soil Improvement Committee lists these "dividends" resulting from top dressing your fields with plenty of phosphate-potash fertilizer:

1—You get more hay per acre. That means lower feeding costs and higher profits.

2—The hay is higher quality, more nutritious, with a bigger protein content.

3—The top dressed fertilizer aids in the development of the roots after the tops have grown out.

4—You help increase the life span of your alfalfa stands. The committee reports that Midwestern agronomists recommend using up to 300 pounds per acre of phosphate-potash fertilizer such as 0-20-20 or 0-10-30, depending on the nutrient requirements of the soil.

Alfalfa has a big appetite for potash and phosphate, the committee points out. For every four tons of hay produced during the summer season, the alfalfa crop pulls out 140 pounds of potash and 55 pounds of phosphate.

These nutrients must be replenished in the form of commercial fertilizer if thick growing alfalfa stands and high yields are to be maintained, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee reports.

Removing Straw After Grain Harvest Aids Legume Growth

AGRONOMISTS recommend these steps for helping new legume seedlings in a field after the small grain crop is harvested:

1—Remove all straw from your wheat fields after the crop is combined, except where the seeding is made up of sweet clover. By promptly clipping and hauling off the straw, you eliminate harmful shading and allow sunshine and air to reach alfalfa, red clover, Ladino and pasture grasses.

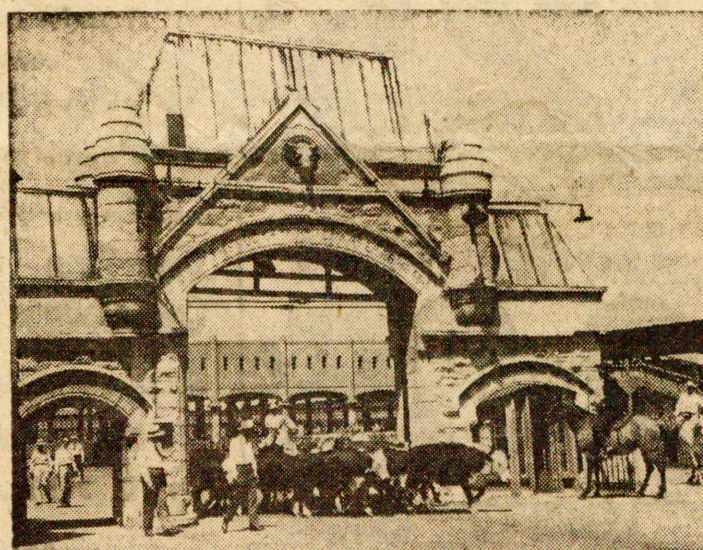

2—Unless the seedlings have had a full feed before planting, top dress with fertilizer high in phosphate and potash, after the straw is removed. This will give the small legume plants the nutrients they need to build husky, winter-resisting roots and thick, healthy topgrowth.

3—Watch for sweet clover beetles, for they have been known to attack alfalfa and other legumes when the sweet clover is not present.

"Getting rid of the straw helps get rid of the danger from fungus and molds encouraged by the dampness under the straw," says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. "These fungus and molds can sometimes destroy the new seedling."

If there is exceptionally heavy growth the new seedling can be clipped and the clippings removed—otherwise, grazing or mowing can weaken the plants and lower their winter resistance. Especially the new legume seedlings should not be grazed until after October 10 or growth has stopped for the winter. The legumes need the fall months to store up in their roots the plant food needed to carry them over the winter and promote rapid growth the following spring.

CATTLEMEN'S LANDMARK IS 75 YEARS OLD

In a ceremony commemorating the 75th Anniversary of the Old Stone Gate at the Chicago stock yards, William Wood Prince, President of the Union Stock Yard and Transit Company, observes a herd of cattle being driven through the gate. The anniversary of this Chicago landmark, familiar to farmers and cattlemen everywhere, was observed by driving a herd of cattle through the gate—just as was done in the early days of the Chicago stock yards. The animals arrived by rail 75 years ago, and were driven out of the yards through the old stone gate to the nearby packing plants. Except for a different roof, the structure remains today just as it was in 1879.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
EDWARD J. BARRETT
Secretary of State

You can drive better and safer when you know what the other fellow is going to do, so let him know what you are planning to do. Before you slow down, stop, turn, change traffic lanes or pull out of a parking place be sure that you can do so safely. THEN, let the other driver know what you intend to do by giving the proper signal. It's the law. (Sections 65, 66, 67, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic)

Give your hand signals clearly by extending your arm well out of the car window. All signals should be given at least 100 feet before you turn or stop, but not while you are turning. Both hands should be on the wheel then.

A copy of the booklet, "Rules of the Road," containing many traffic safety suggestions, will be sent to you free upon request. Write to EDWARD J. BARRETT, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

More than 50 accordion bands and 25 fretted instruments bands will compete at the Illinois State Fair this year, Aug. 13-22. In other musical competition at the fair, nearly 50 high school bands from throughout the state will be seeking honors and awards.

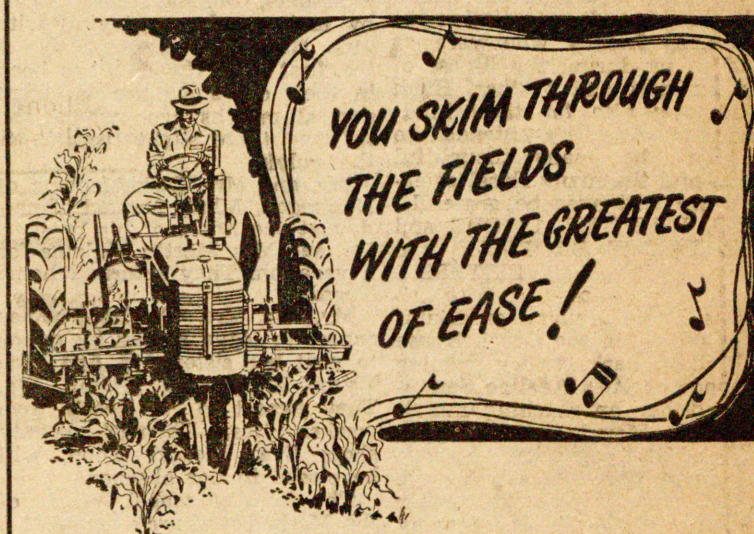

The coal output in Illinois during June declined 31,155 tons from the May total and 403,792 tons below the production figure for June last year. B. H. Schull, director the state Department of Mines and Minerals, said in his monthly report. The June output was 2,743,234 tons. During the month there were three coal mine fatalities. These occurred at Freeman mine no. 3, Williamson county, when a hoist caught on an obstruction and dropped the men to the bottom of the shaft.

Mid-August ACP Report Required

All farmers currently participating in the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program must comply with an August 15th (actually 16th) deadline reporting date if they wish to receive cost-sharing assistance for limestone, leucaena, and other completed soil conservation projects, according to Mr. Borms, Manager of the Will county ASC committee.

Under this year's program, farmers were given until August 15 to carry out ACP soil conservation work approved prior to this date. Any farmer who has already completed a 1954 ACP practice approved for his farm must turn in a report by the deadline date in order to receive credit and be eligible for payment. This report may be filed by calling at the county ASC office in person, or by completing, signing and returning Form ACP-245, which has previously been sent to all cooperators. Written evidence such as tickets showing purchase of limestone or invoices covering earth-moving costs, should accompany the report. Also soil test when required and location of practice

EASY-TO-TAKE DRUGS

By Science Features

"Taking your medicine" is no longer the unpleasant task it used to be. For drugs nowadays come in various sizes, forms and flavors that make them as easy as possible for the patient to use. Only the doctor can decide which dosage form of a drug is best for a specific illness but he does take into consideration the patient's ease, taste and convenience.

For example, many antibiotics are prepared as flavored liquids — penicillin comes in peach, terramycin in raspberry — to taste almost like candy and be readily accepted by children. Sugar-coated tablets and capsules are two other easy-to-take forms that the adult patient can painlessly swallow.

When a doctor wants a high blood level of a drug quickly — usually with hospitalized patients — he may inject it directly into a vein. For out-patients this concentration was almost impossible to obtain with any wide-range antibiotic. Recently the situation was remedied with the development of an intramuscular form of terramycin, which gives the proper quantity in a simple manner.

Troches are good for high concentration of a drug in local mouth or throat infections. They dissolve slowly, giving prolonged contact between the medication and the infected area. On the other hand, some tablets are designed to dissolve very quickly when placed in liquid — excellent for use in infant formulas. The modern pharmaceutical laboratories work constantly to equip the doctor with drugs that are the most medically effective — and the most pleasant for the patient.

Scarred Furniture

Here's a tip that will be helpful if you have wanted to patch a crack, gouge or deep cigarette burn in a natural-finish table top, but have hesitated to undertake the job for fear the patch would be too apparent.

Clean out the crack or gouge with a sharp knife. Cut and scrape away any charred wood left by a burning cigarette. Fill the depression with Plastic Wood, slightly over-full. When the filler has hardened, sandpaper it flush and smooth.

Plastic Wood comes in a number of natural wood colors including oak, light and dark mahogany, walnut, cedar, ebony and gum wood, but if none of these matches your table, you can use the natural color Plastic Wood, staining it with colored waterproof drawing inks that can be bought at art supplies stores.

If you mix brown, yellow and red inks in different proportions, and perhaps a little black ink to darken, you can get a close match to almost any natural wood color. Apply several coats with a soft watercolor brush. When the last coat has dried — drying takes only a few minutes — finish the job by brushing on a coat of colorless nail polish.

Farmers who haven't carried out projects which have been approved for their farms and are still interested in doing the job, should request an extension of time. These requests must be in writing and must be filed before the August 15th deadline date.

This August cut off date, said

Mr. Borms, is a new program feature and one that might easily be overlooked. Every cooperator should make certain that he has or will submit the required report. Unless this is done previously approved practices will be cancelled and he may lose a payment which otherwise would be earned.

HOLDING WHEAT MAY

GET HIGHER PRICES

With the 1954 wheat crop in this region expected to be much larger than last year, farmers may make money by holding their wheat, says Farm Advisor,

Carl F. Mees, of Cook county.

Reports from University of Illinois agricultural economist L.

J. Norton, show that a smaller wheat crop plus the government loan program may mean less "free" wheat from this area for sale in the markets. Norton believes this could cause a substantial increase over present wheat prices. These prices are now a 65 cents under the loan price.

Mees says the prospects for a smaller wheat crop are based on June 1 estimates for the total wheat crop in Missouri and in states east of the Mississippi river. At that time 1954 production was expected to be about 100 million bushels below the 1953 crop. Wheat in these states is mainly soft wheat or the softer eyes of hard wheat.

Farmers in this region placed nearly 100 million bushels of wheat under loans or purchase agreements in 1953, says Mees. If as much goes under loan this year, the supply of "free" wheat for sale will be only about 60 percent as large as last year's supply.

farmers who have wheat with a low moisture content may be able to hold it for higher prices. They could either store it on the farm or use short-time storage in local elevators that may have unused space until corn and beans are harvested.

A stronger demand may also help the price of soft wheat. This demand is largely the result of relatively low prices for this type compared with others. These lower prices stimulated the use of soft wheat, for feed and milling and also for export.

ROCK ISLAND SAYS NO ON ICC DECISION

The Rock Island lines today announced that it could not accept the terms imposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, under its interpretation of the statutes, as conditions to the Rock Island's acquisition of the Wichita Falls and Southern railroad company.

The Commission's order, issued June 10, provided for the abandonment of the entire railroad by the Wichita Falls and Southern, but granted to the Rock Island the right to take over the operation of that part of the line between Wichita Falls and Breckenridge on a three year trial basis. A further stipulation provided that if at the end of three years operations proved unprofitable, the certificate authorizing abandonment of the whole line would become effective as to this portion without further appeal to the Commission.

J. D. Farrington, Rock Island president, in announcing the road's decision, stated the Rock Island will immediately file an application with the Commission to purchase the trackage between Graham, Texas and a point south of Breckenridge, the purchase to become effective upon abandonment of the railroad by the present company. This segment is approximately 39 miles long.

Under Rock Island's new proposal the Graham Breckenridge trackage would be incorporated as an integral part of the Rock Island system.

The conditions prescribed in the Commission's order, Mr. Farrington said, were such as to cause a further study of the line between Breckenridge and Wichita Falls. This resulted in the conclusion that operation as originally planned, would not be in the Rock Island's best interests.

Gas Company Names New South Manager

Northern Illinois Gas Company today announced the appointment of Raymond O. Stauss as division manager in charge of the company's operations in its southern division.

Mr. Stauss has held a number of executive positions with the company since he began his utility career in 1925. He has been closely allied with gas operations since 1946 and has been southern division gas superintendent for Public Service for the past two years. Mr. Stauss now assumes charge of the gas company's operations in the division which includes the south suburban communities, Blue Island, Harvey and Chicago Heights, and extends to Kankakee on the south and as far west as the Ottawa area. His office will continue to be in Joliet.

Northern Illinois Gas Company took over the operation of the public service company's gas properties early this year.

Stauss said that the separation of gas and electric operations is proceeding in an orderly manner and it is hoped that it can be completed late this year or early in 1955.

For the convenience of customers, it is planned that present Public Service company salesrooms and service offices will continue to be available for the payment of bills and transaction of business, either gas or electric. Pending rearrangement of telephone facilities, he pointed out that customers should continue to use the local Public Service Company telephone number to reach the gas company.

Combined Appeals Plan Proposed

A plan to combine welfare drives into a single appeal for employe groups has been offered by the Community Fund to 600 selected Chicago firms employing 650,000 workers.

The Fund's proposed "Combined Appeal Plan" would enable each company to conduct an inclusive, once-a-year appeal for employe support of whatever community wide charitable causes the firm and its workers choose. The "package" may consist only of the Community Fund and Red Cross, the two basic in-plant appeals, but might also embrace such drives as Heart and Cancer.

Unlike the united campaigns operating in some cities, the plan would not grant contributors immunity from personal solicitations by welfare agencies outside plant or office.

CAP, which is already being used by a number of leading Chicago companies, including United States Steel, International Harvester, The Pullman company, Ford Motor company and Western Electric, has received the whole-hearted endorsement of organized labor.

"Firms utilizing CAP," reports Fund president Herman Dunlap Smith, "find that the plan saves employe time, cuts down campaign expense, reduces annoyance to workers of multiple appeals, and results in more generous contributions. All contributions under CAP are by payroll deduction."

Why Worship?

Lesson for August 1, 1954

AN AMATEUR gardener once wanted to raise some corn. In his little plot he did not have much room. He looked in his book and it said there that corn hills should be three feet apart, so he decided there was only room for one hill, as he wanted to plant other things too. So he planted his one hill of corn. But of course he never found any ears on his corn stalks. He did not know that one stalk of corn will not "make" by itself. Now human beings are like that, and especially Christians. Corn standing off by itself never is real corn, and a Christian off by himself is not a complete Christian. There are religions which suppose that a person can please God best if he becomes a hermit and carries on, so to speak, a single-track conversation between himself and God. But the Christian religion, at its best, knows better. Christians cannot become what they ought to be without the companionship and help of other Christians. Christianity without fellowship would not be Christianity.

A Shared Faith

Consider one very important form of fellowship: Worship, — that is, public worship, in church on Sundays or otherwise. Why do we worship together? Wouldn't it be just as good if each of us worshipped alone? Private worship is necessary too, to be sure. "Enter into thy closet and shut thy door" is still Christ's directive. But Christ himself joined regularly in public worship even though in his day that was pretty formal. One of the reasons for public worship is that it is a united witness, a testimony of faith. Many churches repeat the Apostle's Creed on Sunday mornings. But even when they do not, public worship is the expression of a faith which can be shared, and is shared. When the communists took over the Chinese government, they did not attack the churches directly. What they did was to appoint official meetings, and require every one's attendance, at the hours on Sunday usually set for church services. They knew very well that if you can keep Christians from worshipping together you keep them from witnessing to their faith, and you are helping that faith to wither away. When you go to church on Sunday, you are not just sitting there in a pew listening. You are bearing witness to your faith in Christ, in the most public way; and others are helped by your being there just as you are helped by their being there.

Better Worship, Better Living

How would you "improve" the worship in your church? By having a better choir? By getting more people out? By having more eloquent sermons? By making the sanctuary more beautiful? All these things could help, but they might one and all miss the main point. The vital question is: What effect does this worship have on the lives of those who take part in it? If a change in the manner of worship does not make for better living on the part of worshippers, then it is not a change for the better. Real worship will so bring us as a group into the presence of God that we are bound to be better men and women. Public worship ought to make us conscious of our sinfulness and our need of God; to make us aware of God's forgiving love in Christ our Saviour; to arouse in us a desire to be more like the Master; to make us stop and think about our lives and what is wrong and what is right with them; to stir us to be grateful to God for his blessings; to make us bolder to approach the "throne of grace;" to sharpen our consciences and make us see more clearly what God will have us do; to strengthen our courage to do in God's strength what he has for us to do.

Fellowship

One of the greatest benefits from public worship is precisely Christian fellowship. We can have fellowship in many ways, at a fish-ry or in a Sunday school class or a church painting party. In worshipping together, however, we can find fellowship at its highest level. For in worship we are reminded of our common humanity, our common sinfulness, the need of God which all of us share.

Drouth Bears Down On Many Areas

Weather, and markets, have again grabbed first place in the farm league. Extreme heat and drouth have burned crops in many regions; but some areas have good prospects.

South-Dry. In general, the southern half of Illinois is much worse hit than the northern half. In fact, most of the United States south of central Illinois has had less than normal rainfall since May 15. The northeastern states have also suffered from lack of rain.

North-Better. Areas of average rainfall or more this summer include northern Illinois, northern Iowa, Wisconsin, the Dakotas and the Northwest.

The drouth this year is both similar to and different from that of 1953. In general, the same areas are affected. But this year there is less subsoil moisture, and the drouth began earlier. Also, many areas have had higher temperatures this year.

Corn. In extreme drouth areas corn is showing burned tassels and whitened upper leaves, something like the damage in 1936.

How much might extreme widespread drouth cut the corn crop? The most severe drouths of modern times, those of 1934 and 1936, cut production by about one billion bushels. U.S. average corn production is about 3.1 billion bushels. A billion-bushel cut would therefore leave about 2.1 billion bushels.

A crop of 2.1 billion bushels, plus a prospective carry-over of 900 million bushels, would make a total supply of 3.0 billion bushels of corn for next year. That would be about as much as is being used this year. Thus there is no extreme shortage in sight for the year ahead even if the drouth persists and spreads.

Another point: At this writing the areas that ordinarily produce most of the market corn are not so badly hurt as those farther south. This apparently applies both to Illinois and to Iowa.

A short corn crop this year would have less than usual price-boosting influence. Price advances will tend to be limited by the large stocks of old corn, largely in government control.

Soybeans. The soybean market is much more sensitive than the corn market to news of crop development. The reason is that there is no prospect of any substantial carry-over of old soybeans this fall. The supply of soybeans for next year depends entirely on the crop that is now developing.

Range States. Severe to extreme drouth has developed over much of the western range states. Western Texas is perhaps not so badly burned as it was last year, but pastures are much poorer in New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, and western Kansas and Nebraska. The Northwest also has more dry areas than it had in 1953, and there are many more severe drouth areas in the east-central and southeastern parts of the U.S. As of July 1 pastures in these areas were suffering more than crops.

Feeder Cattle. Drouth in both the range country and the Corn Belt may be making some opportunities to buy feeder cattle at advantageous prices.

L. H. Simerl
Department of Agricultural Economics

Are You Raising Pork or Parasites?

There's no market for worms, so why raise them? The feed they eat should be going into more pork, says Dr. N. D. Levine of the College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Illinois.

Wormy pigs don't have to look runty. If your pigs aren't gaining so well as they should, they may have worms. If so, it may take an extra month and cost you three to four more bushels of corn to bring them to market weight.

Your pigs are more likely to have a lot of worms if they are using the same pasture that your swine herd used last year. Worms passed by last year's pigs in their stools will be picked up this year while the pigs are grazing. So put your pigs on a fresh pasture that hasn't been used by swine for several years. Then rotate the pastures as often as you can.

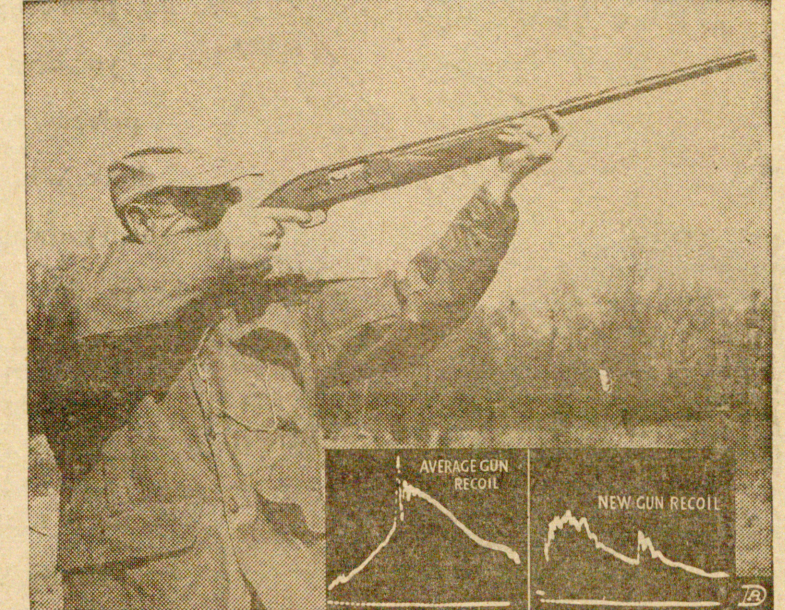

If the pigs do have worms, feed them a one percent mixture of sodium fluoride mixed in a day's ration of a dry ground feed.

Grasshoppers Controlled in Midwest

Grasshoppers are an extremely serious problem throughout the entire Midwest according to extension entomologists. Unless the insects are controlled promptly, they will damage crops for the remainder of the summer. The entomologists recommend killing the hoppers now before they are old enough to fly. The only alternative is simply to turn the farm over to the grasshoppers and let them have it. Most entomologists recommend insecticide spraying for grasshopper control. During a recent demonstration in Wisconsin, aldrin, the insecticide spray that was used, began killing these hoppers in a matter of hours and within a day control was considered complete. The treatment at 2 to 4 ozs. per acre more than paid for itself.

WORLD'S NEWEST SHOTGUN

The world's first semi-automatic shotgun that stays on target shot after shot as fast as the trigger is pulled has just been unveiled by Winchester after 16 years of research.

To the nation's 20 million shooters, one important result of the new Model 50's unique design is that recoil is 30 per cent softer than the average semi-automatic. The Model 50 is the world's first self-loading shotgun with a non-recoiling barrel. A new-type independent chamber which moves less than one-tenth of an inch starts the entire cycle of operation. The new design completely eliminates the slap and clatter usually associated with a semi-automatic.

To the shooter who catches himself flinching, or who dislikes the "double-shuffle" of an automatic, the big news is pictured in the two graphs above. They compare the recoil effect of the new Winchester with that of an average self-loader.

The lines at the bottom of each graph represent duration of recoil. The wavy lines show the force of recoil as measured on an oscilloscope. The energy from the recoil of all shotguns using the same ammunition is always the same. But the conventional 12 gauge semi-automatic reaches a maximum force of 130 pounds abruptly.

Recoil of the Model 50 is "easier" on the shooter because it is spread over more time. The maximum is only 93 pounds. Thus, while the recoil of a conventional auto-loader can be described as a punch, recoil of the new Model 50 is a gradual pushing action.

Illinois ranks third of the 48 states in its financial support of the public schools, according to a recent report by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

This report, "Expenditures for Education at the Midcentury", compares the amount spent per classroom unit in each of the states. The median expenditure for all classroom units in Illinois was $6,215. In other words, $6,215 or more was spent per classroom unit for half the classroom units in Illinois. $6215 or less was spent per classroom unit for the other half. The median expenditure for all classroom units in the United States was $4,391. Only two states were reported as having higher medians than Illinois, New York with $7,627 and New Jersey, $6,323. California ranked fifth with $5,830 per classroom unit.

States surrounding Illinois were a much lower position. Wisconsin's median expenditure per classroom unit was $4,439; Iowa, $4,296; Missouri, $3,553; Kentucky, -1,847; Indiana, $4,626 and Michigan -4,939.

The figures contained in the federal report were for the school year 1949-50. For that year, the federal report stated that total current expenditures for classroom units in Illinois amounted to $236,550,653. There were 42,042 classroom units in Illinois that year.

Since that year, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois estimates that Illinois school expenditure have greatly increased. In the school year 1949-50, State aid for public schools amounted to $61,147,961 in Illinois. In 1952

53 State aid was $77,257,368. Property taxes for school purposes for the school year 1949-50 amounted to $727,418,200; increased to $351,673,573 for the school year 1952-53.

The Passing Scene

HEALTH HORIZONS

Foe Of Femininity

Pick up any women's magazine these days, and you will almost invariably find a column or page of "Beauty Hints," some articles on new cosmetics and hair styles, and a selection of clothes to enhance or flatter your figure. All women want to be attractive, and why not? Ever since Eve, that has been one of women's roles.

All this good advice on making an attractive impression can be wasted, however, if a woman is careless about personal health and hygiene. The finest powder cannot compete with the glow of a clean, healthy skin or even camouflage a neglected one very successfully. Neither can the "last word" in modish attire outweigh the unfavorable impression often created by neglect of more intimate care.

Women Often Unaware

It is one of the greatest foes of femininity that the woman herself may often be unaware of an "aura of neglect," as we might call it. If she is aware of it, because of odor or unusual staining, she should certainly check with her physician to see if there is any infection or other disorder that may need treatment. But, because of woman's physiology, even a normal woman may offend at times without realizing it. A daily cleansing with a simple deodorizing preparation is a good safeguard against this. For such protection Dr. Leo L. Klein of New York has recommended Chloroglene, a simple chlorophyll-lactose combination which is soothing and deodorizing. Used locally this way, Dr. Klein says (citing the American Medical Association as authority) chlorophyll is an effective deodorant and also stimulates tissue repair.

Improving the Complexion

As to skin cleanliness, most women may do best simply with soap and water, unless a competent dermatologist gives other advice. The way to a good complexion for the average person is easy. Dip a washcloth in hot, sudsy water, and apply it to your face for 30 seconds or so and then wash face and neck vigorously with the hot cloth. Then do the same thing with very cold water. Repeat this several times, both morning and evening, and you may be surprised to see how quickly you may improve the condition of your skin.

SCIENCE and your Health

EASY-TO-TAKE DRUGS

By Science Features

"Taking your medicine" is no longer the unpleasant task it used to be. For drugs nowadays come in various sizes, forms and flavors that make them as easy as possible for the patient to use. Only the doctor can decide which dosage form of a drug is best for a specific illness but he does take into consideration the patient's ease, taste and convenience.

For example, many antibiotics are prepared as flavored liquids — penicillin comes in peach, terramycin in raspberry — to taste almost like candy and are readily accepted by children. Sugar-coated tablets and capsules are two other easy-to-take forms that the adult patient can painlessly swallow. When a doctor wants a high blood level of a drug quickly—usually with hospitalized patients—he may inject it directly into a vein. For out-patients this concentration was almost impossible to obtain with any wide-range antibiotic. Recently the situation was remedied with the development of an intramuscular form of terramycin, which gives the proper quantity in a simple manner.

Troches are good for high concentration of a drug in local mouth or throat infections. They dissolve slowly, giving prolonged contact between the medication and the infected area. On the other hand, some tablets are designed to dissolve very quickly when placed in liquid—excellent for use in infant formulas. The modern pharmaceutical laboratories work constantly to equip the doctor with drugs that are the most medically effective—and the most pleasant for the patient.

SUNFLOWERS DO NOT TURN WITH THE SUN

C'MON-LET'S GET IN THE SHADE

And We Can Prove It!

Sunflowers do not turn with the sun. This is a very popular fallacy, arising perhaps from mythology. According to the myth, Clytie, daughter of Oceanus, became enamoured of Sol, the Sun. Later, when he despised her, she pined away in sorrow and was finally changed into a sunflower. 1. Chambers Encyclopedia, 2. Encyclopedia Britannica, 11th edition. 3. "Four sunflowers may be seen on the same stalk and facing the four cardinal points," "Popular Fallacies" A. S. E. Ackermann.

Planning to take a trip by car? Then make sure it's ready by having it put in top notch condition by our expert mechanics. Wheel alignment, battery service, body tightening, complete lubrication.

Healy Ponys Win Eight Straight

The Tinley Park Ponys chalked up an 8 to 7 win over Matteson Friday night at Tinley. This gives them a nine and one record for the season. Tinley boys collected 11 hits as follows: Vodnick 3, Hartwig, Miller and O'Neill 2, Hug and Rodger 1. Rodger tripled in the fifth inning but was cut down at the plate by Becker's throw from center field on Hug's fly ball. O'Neill doubled to open the sixth inning. Lucas walked. Vodnick singled and went to third on an error by the left fielder. Rodger was safe on a fielder's choice when the throw to the plate was too late to catch Vodnick. Hug homered scoring Rodger ahead of him.

Hartwig had a very shaky first inning in which the first man walked, the next two were hit by pitched balls and Buchmeier cleared the bases with a home run, to give Matteson a four run lead. Hartwig settled down and only gave up three more hits while piling up 10 strikeouts, to go all the way and become the winning pitcher.

"A" Team Wins

Sunday afternoon the Tinley Park "A" team beat Lansing 7 to 4 at the losers home field. The winning pitcher was Joe Ricci.

Tinley will play at Grandview next Sunday, Aug. 1 at Tinley.

Tinley Girls Win Over Matteson

Our Tinley Park girls played hosts to Matteson Monday night and greeted them with a 11-9 victory.

Diane Albright pitched the whole game and was credited with Tinley Park's first victory. Her battermate was Judy Grav.

Carol Meyer, Tinley Park's slugger, was the batting hero of the game. Of our six hits, Carol had three, all homers.

Offensively, Tinley Park had six hits, five walks, and three errors charged to Matteson.

Our girls showed an immense improvement since Matteson beat them 18-7 last July 15.

Tinley Park scored first in the second inning and led all of the way until the sixth, when Matteson tied it up 6-6. The big blow for Tinley Park was in the third inning. With the bases loaded, Carol Meyer hit one of her specialties, over the outfielder's head. In the top of the seventh Matteson got another run to go into the lead for the first time, by one run. Then in our half of the seventh, the first two girls got on base and Carol Meyer did it again, driving in the winning runs. All totaled, Carol drove in 8 of our 11.

Monday night's win has greatly boosted the morale of the girls and they certainly deserve credit for their victory.

After the game, the team celebrated in their coach, Bill Bingham's basement with watermelon.

A research study by the Illinois department of public welfare reveals that Illinoisans are living longer than people in the country as a whole but the number of persons 65 years of age or older admitted to Illinois mental hospitals has increased more than four times in the last 28 years. In that same period the number of Illinois residents 65 or over in the general population has risen only two and one-half times.

Tinley Looses - Wins

After losing 2 games to 1st place Matteson last Sunday, the Tinley Walther Leaguers came back strong to beat an outclassed Lansing team 18-3. Tinley's 11 hits plus Lansing's 9 errors accounted for this high batch of runs. Tinley's 5-run first inning showed their determination to win and just to show Lansing that they could do it again, they scored seven more runs in the last inning after 2 outs had been made. Six of Tinley's runs were unearned for the Lansing pitcher uncoiled 10 wild pitches.

Tinley Park started their scoring early. Leroy Hoeh opened the game with a walk and advanced to second while Bob Fremder was being hit by a pitched ball. Hoeh, in the meantime, was caught trying to steal third.

Norm Keuch singled for Tinley's first hit and with runners on first and second, Les Becue came through with a double down the left field line to account for the first 2 runs of the ball game. Lawrence Rauch followed with a walk and while Warren Schultz was grounding out to the pitcher, Becue scored from third with run no 3. Jim Fremder reached first safely on the 3rd baseman's bobbie and went to second on a wild throw by the 1st baseman, which scored Rauch. Bill Koehler singled to score Jim Fremder and Don Schroeder ended the inning by striking out.

Tinley's other big inning was the 6th. With one out, Jim Fremder, Bill Koehler, and Don Schroeder walked. Leroy Hoeh grounded to the 3rd baseman who got Koehler while Jim Fremder was scoring. Three singles by Bob Fremder, Keuch, and Becue accounted for 3 more runs. George Schultz lifted a towering fly ball which the left fielder dropped and Becue scored. A single by Warren Schultz scored George Schultz and Bill Koehler fled to the left fielder to end the 7-run inning.

Les Becue's three hits and four R.B.I.'s paced the Tinley team while Lawrence Rauch and Bill Koehler each came through with triples to score baserunners.

Tinley's last home game of the season will be played next Sunday against Coopers Grove. The field is at 147th and Ridgeland and game time is 2:30.

On Friday night, our girls were host to a visiting Wilmington team. Frankfort had a bad night and was tagged with an 11 to 3 defeat at the hands of this well co-ordinated team.

In this five inning game, Wilmington scored several runs in every inning, and Frankfort came stringing along with one run each in the first, third and fifth.

The battery for Wilmington was Vera Stone pitching, and Iola Mumbrum catching. C. Blunt took over the receiving in the fifth. For Frankfort, Arleen Flesher started pitching and Carole Peterson catching. Lois Steinbach came in from center field to pitch in the fifth and Arleen took over center.

Besides many walks and fielding errors, casualties played a part in our defeat recently. Lorraine Redman has a thumb in a splint and Barbara Hauser suffered a sprained ankle. Another blow was Jean Lentz's moving to Evergreen Park. Jean has played first base for us for the past two years and we'll miss her, not only at first base, but as an all round ball player and good sport. That's all for now, look again next week for "Girls Softball Notes."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Just take a few, simple pre-trip precautions, and you'll find your summer vacation driving can be a "breeze." I believe it's just as important for motorists to have their cars tuned up before taking a trip as it is for orchestras to "tune up" before a concert.

Therefore, before you start your summer driving, take the car to your service station for a thorough service job. Proper lubrication is essential if you want to have your car in tip-top shape, according to Shell Oil engineers. By lubrication, I don't mean just a "grease job" and a change of oil. Be sure the station you pick has up-to-date information on the changing lubrication needs of new and older car models, as well as service charts.

Your battery is the heart of your car, so have it thoroughly tested before a trip. Have the entire ignition and fuel systems gone over. Have your steering mechanism checked for "play" or "shimmy." If you have to press down more than two inches on your brake pedal before the brakes take effect, they probably need servicing. Have your tires checked for wear and proper pressure. Make sure your headlights, stoplights, tail-lights and windshield wipers are in good working order. Remember to check spare tire and car tools before leaving.

You'll find hundreds of practical, road-tested tips such as these in my new book, "Traveling By Car," published this month by Simon & Schuster.

TIGHTEN AUTO RULES

Freshmen under 21 and all students on academic probation at the University of Illinois may not have an automobile at the campus unless they can demonstrate a real need for it and obtain a special permit, under new university regulations effective this fall.

Other students may have an automobile if they register it with the university and show written parental consent, plus evidence of public liability and property damage insurance coverage.

The new rules were adopted to improve academic opportunities for those students having greatest need for every such opportunity, and to relieve, in part, the traffic and parking problem in the university district.

WILL HAVE LARGEST LAMP

Light from the largest man-made lamp in the world will be a part of the silver anniversary program of the 25th annual Chicago Land Music Festival on Saturday night, August 21, in Soldiers' field, Philip Maxwell, Festival director, has announced.

Lighting of a 75,000-watt lamp produced by General Electric Co. will be a part of the Chicago commemoration of the 75th anniversary of Thomas A. Edison's invention of the first practical incandescent lamp. John W. Evers, president of the Commonwealth Edison Co. and chairman of the diamond jubilee committee in the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The lamp which will illuminate the field for an expected audience of 80,000 persons is 42 inches high, 20 inches in diameter, and weighs 50 pounds. It will produce the amount of light used by 190 typical modern homes, as much light as 2,374 60-watt household bulbs.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Browser's" License

"Specs" Johnson, who thinks it's a real treat to spend an hour or so browsing in a bookshop found his idea of heaven up in Centerville last week.

"Just inside the door," Specs says, "there's a tray of bright blue buttons. If you want to look around without having someone suggest you buy the latest best-selling novel, or maybe a history of Africa, you pin a button on your coat lapel."

"You can poke around all you like. Then when you've found the book you want, take off the button, and someone's right there to take care of you."

From where I sit, everybody likes to make his own choice. It doesn't matter whether it's books, or preferences in clothing or makes of cars. And it's no surprise that folks have personal preferences in beverages, too. So if your neighbor orders a glass of beer while you're having coffee, remember he's entitled to his choice, too.
